ONLINE PRIVACY OF CHILDREN

The Company adheres to the principles of the COPPA, a U.S. law designed to protect the online privacy of children, in our Services that are directed to children. If you would like to learn more about COPPA, you can refer to the "Children's Privacy" section of the Federal Trade Commission's website.

The Company adheres to the principles of the GDPR, an EU law designed to protect and empower the owners of personal data ("data subjects"), in terms that regulated the privacy of children.

The Company takes many precautions to protect the online privacy of children. Whenever we refer to "children" in this Privacy Policy, we mean children under the age of 13 (thirteen) for the United States and all other jurisdictions, except that it can be under the age of 16 (sixteen) for the EU member states unless member state established a different age limit, which cannot be lower than 13 (thirteen). Please help us in protecting children's privacy by instructing them to never provide any Personal Information (full name, email address, home address, phone number, etc.) without your permission.

Currently, THE COMPANY DOES NOT KNOWINGLY COLLECT ANY PERSONAL INFORMATION FROM CHILDREN OR WITHIN THE CHILD-ORIENTED PORTIONS OF OUR SERVICES except as otherwise outlined in this Privacy Policy. If we were to collect and store Personal Information from children, we would obtain a prior verifiable consent of a parent or legal guardian before such collection, unless the collection of information falls within a COPPA-permitted exception.

In our Services directed to children users, we collect information which includes persistent identifiers such as a device identifier ("device ID") or an Internet Protocol address ("IP address"). This information is collected solely for the purpose of providing functionality and support for our internal operations and optimizing our users' game experience. We never collect precise geo-location data from children and do not allow practices and/or mechanisms that mislead them into sharing such information.

The Company does not permit behaviorally-targeted advertising to children in the Services where we do not have the substantial confirmation that the user is over the age of 13 (thirteen).

If we decide to change our policy regarding collection of Personal Information of children, we will receive your prior verifiable consent in all cases before such the collection.

In case we detect the unintended collection of Personal Information from children, including cases when children voluntarily share their information, we may use this information only to respond directly to a child's specific one-time request. COPPA permits not to make a direct notification in this case. We will not use the information to contact the child again and we will delete it after we respond to the request. In all other cases we will:

- notify parents we collected their online contact information;
- notify parents we collected their child's online contact information;
- notify parents the online contact information will not be used for any other purpose other than the one as determined in notification and will not be disclosed or combined with other information;
- notify parents that if they do not opt out, we may use the child's online contact information for that purpose; and

If you believe that we may have unintentionally collected your child's Personal Information without your prior consent, you may contact the Company's Privacy Officer by contacts stipulated in Section 10..

INFORMATION COLLECTED

THE COMPANY'S POLICY IS NOT TO COLLECT PERSONAL INFORMATION FROM CHILDREN UNDER THE AGE OF 13 (THIRTEEN) YEARS OLD FOR THE UNITED STATES AND OTHER COUNTRIES, OR 16 (SIXTEEN) FOR THE EUROPEAN UNION, UNLESS OTHERWISE ESTABLISHED BY NATIONAL LAW.

There are two types of information that may be collected by the Company:

- the first is called Personal Information which is information that can be used to identify a specific individual. As stated in the previous section, the Company does not knowingly collect any Personal Information from children outside of the information and required for the support of internal operations. In this case we use the "email plus" method, when we send an email to the parent or legal guardian and have them respond with their consent. Then we send a confirmation to the parent via email, letter, or phone call. In this case we also let the parent know they can revoke their consent anytime. The Company may collect Personal Information that parents, legal guardians or persons 13 (thirteen) years old or over voluntarily provide via the Services.
- the second type of information is non-personal information which does not directly identify an individual. The Company may collect non-personal information about your use of the Services to help us improve our Services or for other purposes as described in this Privacy Policy.

We may combine the non-personal information and Personal Information of people above 13 (thirteen) years old for the United States and other countries, or 16 (sixteen) for the European Union, unless otherwise established by national law that we receive through our Services. Information collected will vary depending upon the activity and may include your name, email address, phone number, mobile number, device type, operating system, home address, birth date, statistical and usage data (as further explained below), proof of identify (such as the Social Security, Social Identification Number or Social Insurance Number) of contest prize winners and, to the extent required to process any payment, your credit card information. In addition, we may collect demographic information such as gender, zip code or postal code and other data that you may provide in surveys or online profiles, for instance. We may combine demographic information with Personal Information.

For EU only: per requirements under GDPR, we log your consent state for compliance purposes. This information is stored on servers hosted in the EU and is used solely for GDPR compliance. The device identifier is stored along with the consent status. If you consent to personalized advertising, your device advertising identifier also is stored in case we need to be able to access it to assist you with data portability or erasure requests. Your device advertising identifier is not stored in our consent logging database if you do not consent to personalized advertising.

Please note that this data is collected automatically by third parties (controllers or processors under GDPR) due to your use of our products if you accept this Privacy Policy:

- data about your game progress;

- your IP address and mobile device identifiers (such as your device ID, advertising ID, MAC address, IMEI);

- data about your device, such as device name and operating system, browser type and language;

- general location data;

- precise geo-location data (GPS, only for users above 13 (thirteen) years old for the United States and other countries, or 16 (sixteen) for the European Union, unless otherwise established by national law and with their direct consent);

- data about your use of our application, such as gameplay data and interactions with other players (if applicable and only for users above 13 (thirteen) years old for the United States and other countries, or 16 (sixteen) for the European Union, unless otherwise established by national law).

When required by law, the Company reserves the right to disclose your Personal Information to third parties or regulatory, law enforcement or other government authorities.

We may also disclose your information to credit reporting or collection agencies, or when necessary to protect our rights or property. If at any time you choose to purchase a product or service offered by another company, for example by clicking on an advertisement on a website owned or controlled by the Company, any Personal Information you share with that company will no longer be controlled under our Privacy Policy.
